PURPOSE

The purpose of the JANNAF Interagency Propulsion Committee is to coordinate fundamental research, exploratory development, and advanced development programs; standardize procedures and nomenclature; promote and facilitate the exchange of technical information; and accomplish problem solving in areas of joint agency interest on propulsion systems used in missiles, rockets, boosters, spaceplane, spacecraft, satellites, and guns. JANNAF subcommittees focus their resources on technical issues of interest to the JANNAF agencies.

SCOPE

The scope of the 1st Programmatic Industrial Base (PIB) meeting is detailed below. To learn more about the scope of the JANNAF Propulsion Meeting (JPM) or the subcommittees that will be meeting in June (MSS, LPS, and SPS), please view the original June 2015 Call for Papers.

PROGRAMMATIC AND INDUSTRIAL BASE

The JANNAF Programmatic and Industrial Base (PIB) Committee was created with the approval of the updated JANNAF Charter by the Department of Defense and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in 2014. As stated in the Charter, the "Programmatic and industrial base areas of interest include integrated program plans and key decision points; industrial base assessments; risks and opportunities with respect to skills, knowledge, and experience; identification of commonality, innovative acquisition, and partnership opportunities; integrated assessments to identify rocket propulsion industrial base (RPIB) rationalization opportunities; special actions from senior agency, department, or Executive Office of the President (EOP) leadership; and information provided to decision makers for either situational awareness or policy decisions."

The PIB seeks presentations on topics related to the areas of interest as described above from the JANNAF Charter.

In particular, presentations are sought that address the following special topics associated with types of rocket propulsion systems:

- Health of the domestic rocket propulsion industrial base
- Rocket propulsion supply chain
- The effect of reduced federal budgets on the rocket propulsion industrial base
- The effects of commercial space on the rocket propulsion industrial base
- The role of the government in supporting the rocket propulsion industrial base
- The effects of the aging work force on the development and production of rocket propulsion
- The role of academia in support of the rocket propulsion industry base

Due to the nature of these topics, two types of sessions will be held:

1. Open to all JANNAF meeting attendees *
2. Restricted to U.S. Government personnel and direct support contractors **

Note that publication of full papers is optional for PIB open sessions. At a minimum, presentations provided in the open sessions will be published.

-  Those interested in submitting abstracts for the session restricted to U.S. Government and direct support contractors should contact the PIB chairs directly (contact information provided on page 2).

PIB ABSTRACT SUBMITTAL INSTRUCTIONS

- The technical areas to be addressed are defined in this announcement. Individuals who wish to submit an abstract for the PIB session that is open to all JANNAF meeting attendees should carefully review the areas and complete and submit the PIB electronic abstract form posted on the meeting website.
- The submission of an abstract represents an agreement to submit a final presentation for publication by May 18, 2015, attend the meeting, and deliver a 30-minute presentation. Your presentation will be heard by all qualified individuals within industry, government, and university organizations. If your presentation cannot be presented to all qualified attendees, but you feel it is appropriate for the PIB session that is restricted to U. S. Government personnel or direct support contractors, please contact the PIB chairs.
- Submit only unclassified abstracts. Abstracts will not be published and will only be used by the program committee members for PIB presentation selection purposes.
- Limit the abstract to 250-300 words and exclude tables and figures. State the objective of the work. Describe the scope, method of approach, and any new advances in the state of the art. Highlight important conclusions, and include a brief summary of the data used to substantiate them.
- Please submit using the PIB Abstract Submittal Form, which can be downloaded from the June meeting website. Obtain management approval on the abstract form to ensure availability of resources for your participation in the meeting.
- Many organizations require abstracts to be processed through an approval system prior to submission. This process takes additional time, so authors should plan accordingly in an effort to meet the abstract deadline date.
- The deadline date for submission of PIB abstracts to CPIAC is 13 March 2015.

CPIAC accepts only electronic submission of abstracts and papers. Electronic PIB abstracts are due at CPIAC by 13 March 2015. PIB Abstracts should be submitted on the PIB Abstract Submittal Form:
